

FLAGLER REPORTS

Chief of the Bureau of Ordnance Tells of the Condition of His Department.

EXPENDED DURING THE YEAR $7,343,295.

There Still Remains of the Appropriation Made by Congress for His Department $19,738,859.

Recommends That the General Government Arm the Volunteers Instead of the States—The Coast Defense Work of the Arsenal.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Gen. D. W. Flagler, chief of the bureau of ordnance, has made his annual report to the secretary of war. It shows that there were expended during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1908, $7,343,295, and that there still remains of the appropriations made for the ordnance bureau, $19,738,859. This large sum is derived from the appropriations for the fiscal year which were made for war purposes amounting to $61,504,992. Regarding the equipment of volunteers, the general thinks it would be as well as to have the government equip them instead of their bringing their state arms into service, saying that it could be done as quickly owing to the condition of the arms of state troops.

He speaks in terms of praise in the manner in which work has been performed at arsenals and ordnance factories in the rush that was made in putting the country on a footing for war with Spain. As to the equipment of an army, he says:

"So long as the principal dependence in this country in time of war is a large volunteer force, never levied, it is impracticable to keep on hand large supplies of cavalry, artillery and horse equipment, as these in the course of a few years will not only deteriorate, but will have to be materially improved to keep pace with improvement. The majority of such material can, by taking advantage of the resources of Rock Island and the other arsenals and the numerous private establishments capable of producing it, be supplied; a rapidly as troops can be raised, mustered in the service and prepared for campaign. There should, however, be on hand 60,000 and a cavalry, with cartridges, and a portion of the harness required for 60,000 men. Such gun and cartridges can not be turned out in large numbers until about six months after initiation of the work."

For equipping an army with a supply of small arms he thinks there should be a supply of 100,000 on hand of any new arm and the arsenals kept in a condition so as to produce 2,500 per day.

An interesting feature of the report is that which treats of coast defense. The general says:

"A nation is especially invited to the experience of the last few months in attempting to mobilize quickly a coast defense. It is believed to be impracticable, and it will always be forced, in any emergency, to rely upon what has been provided in line of peace. I think it fair to state, though not in the way of complaint, that this has been used upon coast defense for the past ten years. The situation is very simple. A plan has been adopted for providing a complete coast defense. With the present facilities of the department this work can be carried on economically and in the most efficient manner in such a way as to complete the present plan in about seven years. Maintenance could be so much of the work as its production will permit. It rests with Congress to determine how much of the work can be provided for each year consistently with the resources of the country. But the work can not progress faster than the appropriations provide for."

"It is probable that there must be added to the plans and estimates for the coast defense some provision for the defense of additional positions."

Gen. Flagler does not claim for the 42 caliber Springfield rifle an equality with the new 30 caliber magazine rifle of the army, but says that it is a very good arm and possesses many merits. This feature has heretofore been commented upon in discussion of small arms used during the war. The machinery for the manufacture of small arms and ammunition was none the best yet the department turned out 100,000 rounds for the war. For years past, the report states, the appropriations for equipments of infantry, cavalry, artillery and horse have been barely sufficient to meet the consumption of the regular army and although there were buildings there was not machinery with which to manufacture these supplies. It was not possible to fill requisitions for the volunteer troops when made.

Details are given of what was done to rapidly increase the coast defenses when the war began. He calls attention to the fact that congress has never appropriated what was asked for powder and projectiles, and in consequence the supply at the beginning of the war was inadequate, and he gives some instances of the work done by the department to make good the deficiency.

Considerable attention is devoted to the progress of work at the various arsenals and the guns which are being made. On September 30, 1908, there were 447 sea coast guns mounted, it is estimated that on June 30, 1899, there were 100, and on the same date in 1900, 1,150.

SPANISH TROOPS MUTINY.

Nearly 10,000 Soldiers Desert for Back Pay—They Demand to Be Paid in Spain and Promise to Cause Trouble.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—An interesting lot of news has reached the war department from Havana. Arrangements have been made by the Spanish authorities to send back to Spain the Spanish troops, numbering 8,500 men, upon the arrival of the American garrison. It was expected that they would sail next Tuesday or Wednesday, but an unexpected obstacle has arisen among the men themselves. They are on the verge of mutiny, openly declaring they will not return to Spain until they receive their pay, now far in arrears, for service in Cuba. The mutiny extends not alone to the enlisted men, but to their officers, and is directed against the executive officials of the Madrid government on the island. Some of the men have not been paid for nearly a year, and to all of them several months pay is due.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 14.—Ida E. Immigration Inspector Williams and the matron of the Bault St. Marie custom house had the girl in charge. Williams stated Sunday night that she had made an outbreak at any time during the journey from Marquette, where she had been detained in jail. The first her custodian knew of the act was when they heard the breaking glass. Mr. Williams said the dead girl was suffering from extreme melancholia.

Blood spurted forth from a wound in the left forearm, the actress fainted, and the curtain was rung down. Manager Levering called for a physician from the audience. Spain Finds the Elections in the United States Resulted in Nothing to Aid Spanish Diplomacy—Emperor William's Visit to Spain.

MADRID, Nov. 14.—The result of the United States elections came as a surprise and disappointment to Sagasta, who had confidently expected that the republicans would at least have lost control of the house of representatives. The Spanish cabinet is convinced that the election upon which it had been counting to obtain better terms at Paris have resulted in nothing that can aid Spanish diplomacy.

CAPTAINS OF THE "BIG FOUR" FOOTBALL TEAMS OF 1903.

NELLY, PRINCETON. CHAMBERLAIN, YALE.

CAPTAIN DIBBLE, HARVARD. OUTLAND, PENNSYLVANIA.

The Intended visit of Emperor William, in honor of which Adm. Camara's squadron is under orders to proceed to Genoa, now furnished another straw to clutch at. The queen regent, whose health is visibly impaired by the strain of the last eight months, thinks the wisest course to be for the cabinet to instruct the Spanish peace commissioners frankly to concede the American demand of the Philippines and to work honestly and expeditiously to frame a treaty.

The marked sympathy for Spain expressed almost unanimously by the German newspapers, coupled with the purchase at Berlin and Frankfurt of Spanish exterior and Cuban bonds, the German holdings of which have been quadrupled during the last three months, give an exaggerated significance to the intended visit of the German emperor.

It is not yet known what the emperor's plans may be on his arrival at Cartagena on November 19, but as soon as the Hohenzollern reaches that naval station the imperial will be invited by an autograph letter from the queen regent to visit Madrid. Lord Salisbury's reference to the American republic as a factor in Asia and possibly European diplomacy which might not conduce to the interests of peace, is widely commented upon here as strengthening the prevailing impression that Germans wish to intervene in the Philippines. All but the extreme reactionaries dread the consequences of a resumption of hostilities by the United States, which they are aware would probably involve the loss of the Canaries, and this in spite of the present German liking to the cloud, remains the irrefragable motive that must eventually determine the cabinet to reconsider the instruction that it is now believed to have sent to the Spanish peace commissioners.

The ministry of finance has in hand a project for the conversion of the Spanish exterior bonds and the funded debts of Cuba and the Philippines, the idea being to maintain the treasury guarantees of Philippine bonds and Cuban bonds of the six and five per cent. denominations, but to reduce the interest to 3 1/2 and 3 per cent, respectively. This partially accounts for the firmness of Cuban bonds in Paris and Berlin, where speculation in them is unusually active.
